

CBC-TV renews The Week the Women Went

Staff

Toronto -- CBC Television has renewed the popular reality show The Week the Women Went for a second season. The eight-part program, which observes the men of a small town coping with kids and households when their wives leave for a week, will return this January. The locale is switching from Hardisty, Alta., to the fishing village of Tatamagouche, N.S.